COMMISSIONER OF MEDICAL TRAVEL CLUB

A Commissioner of Medical Travel (CMT) is an individual responsible for transferring patients from one country to another for medical treatment. CMTs are typically representatives of government, insurance, armed forces, travel industries and patient transfer and facilitation services.

The CMT Programme sets IMTEC apart from other medical travel events as it ensures exhibitors receive substantial networking opportunities with qualified investors in overseas patient care.

IMTEC welcomed more than 87 CMTs from across the Middle East, Africa, Asia and CIS countries.

Through the online business matchmaking software at IMTEC, a total of 1,237 meeting requests were scheduled between CMTs' and exhibitors.

"We had some really good meetings and now have also some good sales leads. The show feels busier than last year, we are very happy!"
